- 11:15 – 1:00 Post-meeting special presentation: One River Mississippi. Please stay to learn about this new CGEE project and provide your input. Lunch provided!

One River Mississippi will organize scores of diverse communities along the Mississippi River to build connections to their river environment. Watershed-wide discussion of water quality concerns and goals will be linked with performance art projects to be held simultaneously in June 2006. In addition to relationships formed by community planning and implementation groups, thousands of people will come to the river event to celebrate, learn, and enjoy.

Led by the Center for Global Environmental Education's artist in residence, Marylee Hardenbergh, One River Mississippi is gathering steam. This is the latest collaboration between Hardenbergh and CGEE, who in the past have produced the annual Solstice River performance. To further power the environmental component of the project, we invite the help of Metro WaterShed Partners to provide their insights and ideas. Please join us on March 10th!
